A warm welcome,
from luxury.

Live free with nature caressing you.

Your home should mean freedom, your home should mean warmth, your home should mean hope and happiness, and your home should mean the freedom to belong to nature. That's how we have designed Rajapushpa Serene Dale to be.

The Insignia of 'Free Bird'

The insignia of Rajapushpa Serene Dale is the 'Free Bird'. The inspiration for this originates from the freedom of breeze and openness this commune is designed to bring to its dwellers. The typeface is a breezy-wave writing itself on to the canvas called sky, to form the Serene Dale writing.

The thought for this logo emanates from the two most important aspects of the property: one is the vastness of nature; the other is the sense of freedom one will get to experience from the villa-life.

Time to move into vastness.

There comes a time in life when we want to break-free from what we have belonged to so far. We wish to step out of a templated living, break away from set-in-stone routines and time-tables, come out from homes are just a shelter. There comes a time when we want to step out of, boxed living that we have been into for so long – and wish to un-box our life. Serene Dale is designed for that, so one can leave behind the boxed living and step into vastness.
